The Raider varsity baseball team continued its roll last week, winning games six and seven against Rustburg and Altavista.

At press time Tuesday, the Raiders with a 7-0 record were the only unbeaten team in the Seminole District.

Last Monday the Raiders scored a 12-9 victory over the Rustburg Red Devils in what Raider Coach Howard Clabough termed a "slugfest."

Tim Bennett started the game pitching, and was credited with the win. He was relieved in the seventh inning by Kevin Mitchell.

The hot bats for the Raiders against Rustburg were Gary Ferguson (two hits, three stolen bases), Rodney Bryant two for three at the plate, one home run and three RBIs) and Bobby Wingfield (two for four at the plate, a home run and four RBIs).

Thursday's game against Altavista was a somewhat easier contest for the Raiders, who won the game, 9-4.

Kevin Mitchell pitched all the way through the game and was credited with the win, his second of this season.

Leading hitters in the Altavista game for the Raiders were Greg Mayberry (three for four, a home run and five RBIs), Keith Mann (two for four, one RBI), and Gary Ferguson (two for five, a home run and two RBIs).

The Raiders totaled 12 hits and five stolen bases against Altavista.

"I'm pleased with the hitting," Coach Howard Clabough said after last week's games. The team's batting average so far this season is .333, according to Clabough.

"The kids have been playing good defense, and have been aggressive at the plate and on the field. That's one of the reasons we're 7-0 now," the coach added.

Greg Mayberry was scheduled to pitch Tuesday against Altavista at home. Friday, Clabough has scheduled Tim Bennett to pitch against Gretna at Gretna.

Raider Review

By JANE GUILL

Prices are continuously going up, and everyone should practice money management. In today's world, as we are trying to fight inflation, we should all take care to spend money wisely. This column is written especially for the seniors who are graduating and will be on their own next year, or anyone who desires to be a good consumer. Everyone is a consumer, but it takes knowledge to be a wise consumer. A few basic consumer skills are outlined in this column.

The first important step is to set up a budget. You must divide your money to make sure you have the cash for the things that must be paid for, or for things you may need. It is advisable to write down your budget until you get used to budgeting your money in your mind.

When grocery shopping, always take a list of what you need, and buy only what is on the list. Before you prepare your shopping list, go one step farther and plan your menus in advance. To be a smart cook, plan meals with good nutritional values. To save time and possibly money while shopping, itemize your shopping list. For example, put foods under the headings of dairy, vegetables and so on. Be a comparison shopper. To get the best buy compare products according to quality, quantity and price. Two smart tips for shoppers are: buy fresh fruits and vegetables when they are in season, and try to buy larger cuts of meat, these can be frozen, and they usually are cheaper.

Taking care in selecting clothing is also something consumers should know about. Watch out for sales! Always remember, the time energy and expense getting to a sale doesn't always constitute a bargain. It is usually cheaper to make your own clothing, although, it can still save you money if you shop smartly. Try to buy something that is versatile and can be worn with more than one outfit. Evaluate the articles quality before purchasing it, and read the labels to know the proper care of the clothing.

After you have made or purchased your clothing, it will last longer if you care for them properly. Don't crowd clothing in a closet, they will become wrinkled and worn looking. Hang clothes as soon as they have been removed. Never store stained garments, but be careful in removing the stains. Mend clothing as soon as you notice they need repairs.

Being a good consumer is shown in everything you do. Careful planning, smart shopping, and little procrastination ensures a perfect consumer, with extra money saved for entertainment. A smart consumer will know how to save money as well as spend it. A majority of the seniors graduating this year will be out on their own next year, and now is the time to learn to budget your money.

Raiderettes win fifth contest

The Raiderette softball team won their fifth game of this season last Monday, a 7-3 victory over Rustburg.

The Raiderettes took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Robin Paulette led off with a bunt, stole second and scored on two infield ground balls.

The Lady Red Devils tied the game in the third inning, however, on a hit and three Raiderette errors.

The Raiderettes came back in the third inning and scored two runs off three hits, but Rustburg came back the very next inning and tied the game on four Raiderette errors.

The Raiderettes iced the game in the fifth and sixth innings, however, scoring two runs in each inning.

"Overall, this was not a good defensive game," Coach Mary Tolley commented after the game. "But we made some big plays when we needed them," she added.

Lolita Preston threw a runner out in the top of the third inning to stop a Rustburg rally, and Marsha Cheatham made several big plays to end innings with Rustburg runners in scoring position.

The Raiderettes collected seven hits enroute to the 7-3 victory, their fifth this season against two losses.

Robin Paulette went two for three and stole two bases. Kim Carter went two for three and hit a home run, and Vicky Cheatham stole two bases against Rustburg.
